

The AAMDSIF Bone Marrow Failure Symposium - Disease Updates and Health Equity will focus on the most recent advances in pathophysiology, diagnosis and clinical management of bone marrow failure diseases.

Panelists representing a variety of perspectives will discuss practical ways to address gaps in care that may be encountered by bone marrow failure patients, including:

- Diversifying clinical trial enrollment
- Addressing barriers – ageism, geographic and cultural challenges, delays in diagnosis, limited English proficiency, financial toxicity, and long term supportive care
- Assessing quality of life issues and shared decision-making

Target Audience: Physicians, APPs, nurses, pharmacists, social workers, and other health professionals who provide care for bone marrow failure patients
